

ISE 2023 Survey

Integrated Systems Europe has partnered with business culture and innovation specialists InnoQuotient on a unique collaborative project to identify the accelerators and the blockers to business innovation in the international AV industry.

The Assessment of Culture of Innovation measures the maturity of development of an organization's innovation journey. The assessment diagnoses the organization's strengths and the gaps and provides guidance to executives for taking concrete actions towards building and improving the culture of innovation.

Your opinion is valuable. Please complete the pre-show survey. The results will be presented by InnoQuotient founder and CEO Fran Chuan at ISE 2023 during a special Keynote Address on Thursday 2 February.

The InnoQuotient Assessment of Culture of Innovation survey will show how we can improve innovation, productivity, quality, motivation, commitment, and staff turnover within the AV business. It is open to all ISE attendees whatever area you work in and at all levels. All opinions are welcome.

The results will provide a fascinating and valuable insight into identifying how you can unlock innovation and success in your company. Please follow this link to complete the survey. All responses are confidential.

www.iseurope.org