

Reftone Speakers Releases Powered Model Ref-Cubes with Bluetooth Technology

Powered & Passive Ref-Cubes Now Available

Reftone Speakers LLC announces its new powered version of the popular Ref-Cube reference speakers, model LD-3B. These Ref-Cubes are powered, featuring both analog and Bluetooth input modes. The new LD-3B model comes in stereo pairs and mono Ref-Cube configurations. Today, the Reftone brand launches at Sweetwater with the powered Bluetooth and passive Ref-Cube models immediately available on their website.

Based on the original passive Ref-Cubes, the new LD-3B speakers have the same Reftone reference sound and now the added convenience of power and Bluetooth technology. The LD-3B reference speakers are tools to stay ahead of the curve, as the “Bluetooth Mix Check” has already become a standard studio protocol. Reftone has the first studio-quality Bluetooth reference speakers on the market.

Grammy Award-winning Producer/Engineer Neal Pogue says, “I use my Reftone Bluetooth speakers in the most strange, unique way. Once I’ve completed a mix, I like to place them behind me when I'm listening back. The LD-3B Ref-Cubes are perfect for that because I trust the Reftone sound."

Three Ref-Cube models, passive LD-3 stereo pairs, powered Bluetooth LD-3B stereo pairs, and mono Ref-Cubes are now available for sale on Sweetwater.

Ref-Cube Designer & Reftone Co-Founder Dave Hampton comments, "The significance of the first Black-owned manufacturing brand to launch at Sweetwater.com during Black History Month means a lot. Lisa and I have been working really hard with the goal of having our products widely available, so having Ref-Cubes on sale at Sweetwater is a great milestone achievement. Special thanks to the National Black Musician's Coalition for their strategic role and introduction."
