

Universal Audio SP-1

Universal Audio Inc. (UA), a company with expertise in audio production tools including Apollo and Volt audio interfaces, UAD plug-ins, UA mics, and UAFX guitar pedals, is proud to announce that their SP-1 Standard Pencil Microphone Stereo Pair is now shipping.

Universal Audio Ships SP-1 Standard Pencil Microphone Stereo Pair

Tuesday, 19 July 2022 12:00

Adding to UA's growing line of home and studio microphones, the SP-1 allows music creators and engineers to record acoustic instruments and live performances with album-quality sound.

Sold as a matched stereo pair, UA's SP-1 is designed to be the workhorse, everyday choice for adding clarity, width, and dimension to any recording project. The SP-1's classic cardioid design, high SPL tolerance, and smooth, clear top-end deliver consistently clean capture of acoustic guitars, drum overheads, percussion, horns, and more - at any volume, in any environment.

For creators with any Apollo audio interface, custom SP-1 mic presets provide the perfect settings for adding shimmer to cymbals, or bolster horns and stringed instrument recordings with rich stereo sound.

SP-1 Standard Pencil Microphone Stereo Pair - Key Features:

- Now shipping with a US street price of $399
- Capture stringed instruments, drums, and more with a matched condenser pair
- Harness smooth top-end for clear, professional stereo recordings in any environment
- Cardioid polar pattern rejects off-axis sounds and room noise
- Get professional sound easily with SP-1 Apollo Channel Strip Presets
- Includes mic clips, foam windscreens, stereo T-bar mount, and travel case

www.uaudio.com